

WHAT TO EXPECT

UNIQUE OPPORTUNITY

This game provides a unique opportunity to reach fans with neurodiversity and offer an enjoyable, inclusive experience that they would not otherwise have at a typical Chiefs game. This game will involve different features that include PA, music, lighting, ticketing, concourse, Integra Rooms, sensory kits, and more.

WHAT IS NEURODIVERSITY?

ADHD, Autism, Dyspraxia, Dyslexia, Dyscalculia, Dysgraphia, and Tourette's syndrome are all examples of neurodiverse conditions. They're diagnostic labels used to explain the diverse ways of thinking, learning, processing and behaving. As with all people, we each have our talents and challenges.

QUIET ROOM

The Integra Rooms located outside section 110 will serve as a quiet room and there will be sensory kits available here to be checked in and out (limited quantity available). This room will remain available for the entire game to anyone who needs it.

PARTNER ORGANIZATIONS

The Chiefs are proud to partner with several local organizations to help support the neurodiverse community including Isaac Foundation, Northwest Autism Center, The ARC of Spokane, and more.

DIFFERENT GAME DAY EXPERIENCE

The game day experience for this game will be different from the average Chiefs game that you are accustomed to.

- > In terms of sound the music will be quieter, no fan noise makers will be handed out for this game, public address will be limited, and there will be no fire alarm/fog horn type sounds except for the goal song.
- > The arena lights in the bowl will stay on for the entire show, with no dimming or black out.
- > The Gonzaga Exceptional Bulldogs will be the first intermission attraction as a Mite Skate.

SENSORY KITS

Sensory kits will be provided by the Isaac Foundation. These will include fidget devices, headphones, weighted blankets, communication cards, and more. Must be checked in and out and supplies will be limited.

WHAT CAN YOU DO TO HELP?

Everyone at the Chiefs is incredibly excited to host this special event and help make our game day experience as inclusive as possible for everyone. We kindly ask that all of our fans act with empathy, patience, and kindness towards all fans, Chiefs game day team members, and arena employees.
